

How to be a successful student

- Show up

The hardest thing to do, is to show up, get through the door! Once you are there, you can take advantage of all the opportunities present!

- Get involved

Say yes to everything! Join a club, talk to other students about what they do on campus. If you have the opportunity, take a more active role - run for a student officer position, apply for a scholarship, attend events, go to your professor's office hours.

- Find a mentor

Students report that having a mentor provided them with the guidance and support they needed to be successful. Be brave, ask faculty, staff and more advanced students to help you on your academic journey.

- Ask for help

Reach out and ask your professors for help with course material during their office hours. Inquire about professional development with both professors and advanced students - people love to help out!
